8. Data storage period

Dog owner's name is kept permanently unless data subject asks for the removal. Other personal information is kept for one (1) year after the year that person has no dogs with authorization to start. The counting starts from the turn of the year. Official's personal information is kept permanently unless data subject asks for the removal after he/she no longer has valid qualifications. Event applicant's information is kept as long as he/she is authorized to make event applications. Data processing log's information is kept permanently.

Personal information is removed, if the data subject has demanded for the data removal or withdrawn his/her consent to data processing. However the data is not removed from the backups, the data exits from the backups according to the backup cycle. The removal of personal data is done by anonymizing or removing the data from database depending on the case.

9. Principles of register protection

The data is kept in a database on a web-server which can be accessed only with a personal user name and password. The internet connection to the web service is SSL-secured.

At the moment only the persons on the official register can register as users. In the future also the dog owners can register so that they can maintain their own information. Within the register, access rights are managed by user profiles.

Personal data can be viewed, added and modified only by persons specially authorized for that. In addition to that persons in the official register can view each other's information and event organizers can view the information of the owners of the dogs entered to the event.

Event organizer can download coursing register from the information system. Organizers have been given instructions to keep the file on the devices that have been protected properly. Coursing register can be used only for organizing the event and making the event reports.

Personal data changes and usage is logged to the data processing log which is used for resolving personal data history and possible abuse cases, security breaches and error cases.

10. Right of inspection, right to demand data correction, right to demand data removal (EU General Data Protection Regulation articles 15 - 17)

The data subject has a right to know what information regarding to him/her has been saved to the register or that there is no information about him/her in the register. Data subject has to provide necessary information in order for data controller to seek the information. The data subject has a right to demand that the data controller corrects inaccurate or incorrect information about him/her without unnecessary delay.

Data controller has to from his own initiative or data subjects request, fix, remove or supplement the personal data, if the data is incorrect, unnecessary, inadequate or outdated for the data processing and collection purpose.

The data subject that wants to inspect, demand data correction or demand data removal in the manner described in the previous section, has to present a request to the register's contact person with self-signed or similarly certified document.

Inspection, data correction and data removal requests have to be written on the forms that can be loaded from the Finnish Sighthound Association internet pages: <http://www.suomenvinttikoiraliitto.fi/tietosuoja>

If the data controller does not approve the data subjects demand, the data controller has to give a written certificate about the matter. The certificate has to have the reasons why the demand has not been approved and it has to tell that there is a possibility to make an appeal to the supervisory authority and use other legal remedy.

11. Right to withdraw consent

If the legal basis of the personal data processing is data subject's consent, the data subject has a right to withdraw his/her consent. Consent withdrawal or objection of data processing has to be presented to the register's contact person with self-signed or similarly certified document

12. Does the data processing include automatic personal data processing, like profiling?

Personal data processing does not include automatic personal data processing or profiling.

13. Other matters related to personal data processing

Personal data is not used or disclosed for the purposes of direct advertising, distance selling, other direct marketing, market research, opinion polls, public registers or genealogical research.

If the demands from the data subject are obviously groundless or unreasonable, specially if they are presented repeatedly, data collector can either:

- collect a reasonable fee taking into consideration the administrative costs incurred from delivering information or messages.
- refuse to execute the requested action

In such cases, the data controller must demonstrate obvious unjustified or unreasonable demands.

14. Data subject's right to appeal (EU General Data Protection Regulation article 77)

Data subject has a right to make an appeal to supervisory authority, if the data subject considers that processing of his/her personal data violates this article, without prejudice to other administrative or legal remedies.
